

GIFTS DECLARATION SUMMARY 2020-21

The Commissioner for Environmental Sustainability (CES) is committed to maintaining high levels of integrity and transparency as an independent government body through the application of good governance practices. Appropriate management of offers of gifts, benefits and hospitality is a practical demonstration of CES' impartiality and accountability.

CES applies the Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality Policy of the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning which provides rules and guidance in relation to the offer and/or acceptance of gifts, benefits and hospitality to staff. CES is responsible for maintaining the register of all offers of gifts, benefits or hospitality.

This register relates to gifts, benefits or hospitality offered to the Commissioner or a member of her staff throughout the 2020-21 financial year.

There were no gifts, benefits or hospitality offered during the 2020-21 financial year. This is attributed largely to the shift to remote working, with most in-person speeches, conferences and other events being moved to virtual platforms.
